

Faculty Position in the Graduate School of Engineering Science,
The University of Osaka

Outline	The Laboratory of Molecular Assembly Chemistry, Division of Chemistry, Department of Materials Engineering Science, Graduate School of Engineering Science, The University of Osaka, is studying solid-state supramolecular chemistry. The laboratory is seeking an academic staff member to develop functional molecular assemblies by precisely designing intermolecular interactions and explore the new discipline of solid-state supramolecular chemistry and molecule-based crystal engineering. The successful candidate will conduct research and teaching in the Division of Chemistry, Department of Materials Engineering Science, in cooperation with Prof. Ichiro Hisaki. Inquiries regarding this position are welcome.
1. Position	Assistant Professor
