4. Application Procedure

Applicants are required to submit the following application documents to the Graduate Students Section with the approval of your academic advisor※ on your research topic.

No application will be accepted if the documents are incomplete. Application documents are non-returnable.

※ Osaka University has established the "Osaka University Admissions Assistance Desk (hereinafter called "AAD") for those who have graduated (or expect to graduate) from an overseas university, and this will be a means to accurately and efficiently deliver their applications and other documents to the desired supervisor.

In order to welcome those who have graduated (or expect to graduate) from an overseas university in an efficient manner, all research students planning to come to the Graduate School of Engineering Science are required to apply through the AAD. Therefore, before contacting the professor with whom you wish to work, we ask you to apply to the AAD first and obtain permission to contact the professor.

For further details on the AAD :

(English) <https://www.osaka-u.ac.jp/en/international/inbound/dragongate>

Important note:

Please keep in mind that the AAD serves to notify you whether or not you will be permitted to contact the professor, and that receiving such a notification does not mean that you have been accepted.

In addition, note that it will take roughly three weeks after you have applied before you receive this notification. For newly-arriving international applicants are required, in principle, to complete the application procedure four months prior to the date of their desired enrollment as it can take considerable time to apply for visa. We suggest that you apply for AAD well in advance (at least three weeks before applying for admission).
